Description

At Wisolar, we want current and future generations to have equal access to essential social services while living on a thriving and sustainable planet. We aim to improve our communities by giving the gift of clean energy to organizations that need it most; non-profits on the front lines, serving our most vulnerable populations. By eliminating electricity costs for non-profits we help them maximize their impact on their direct cause. With our help, these organizations are able to invest funds directly into their missions: to feed children, provide counselling, support a shelter, or start a movement. By saving thousands of Rands for those who need it most, and harnessing the sun's power, we help local communities thrive.
